VARNISHING:

Painting is an important process, as it significantly contributes to the aesthetic and durability of the product. The final step before applying the varnish is hand sanding to smooth the surface and control the quality.

With this preparation the varnish will adhere to the wood perfectly, creating an elastic film following the micromovements of the wood.

This working process protects the wood very well. FAS Serramenti provides its external doors with a coating system consisting of three coats: one of impregnating, one of a primer and one of finishing.

Available wooden
and all RAL colors

MAINTENANCE:

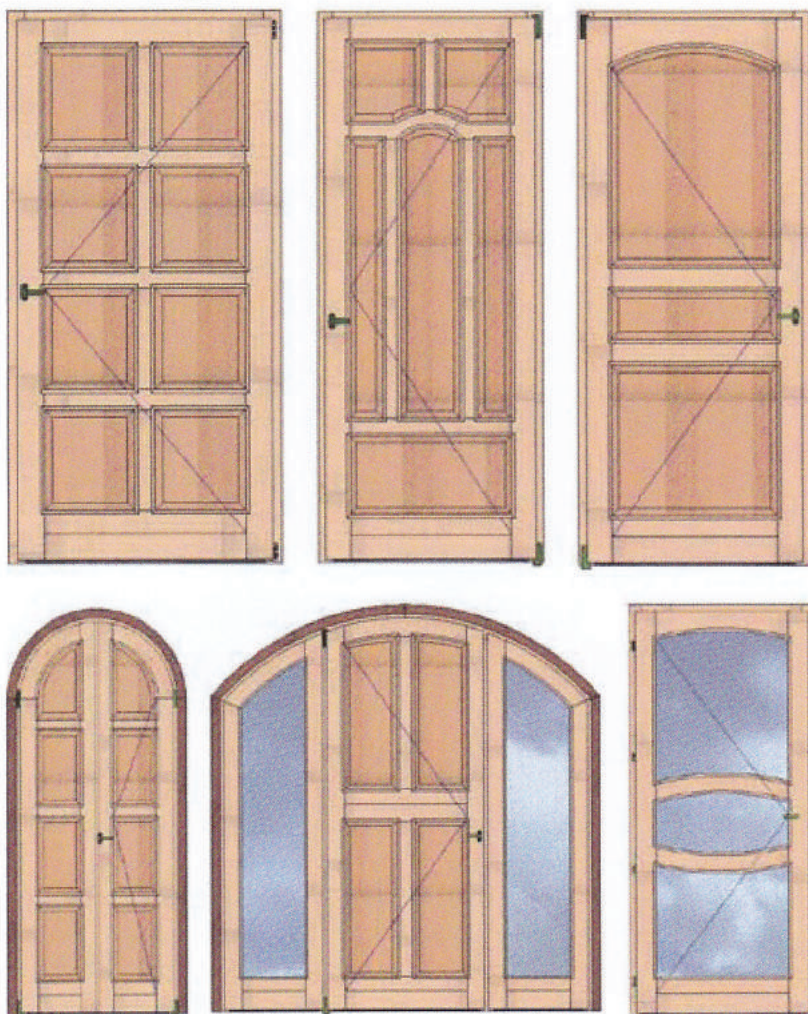

The maintenance of our windows is very easy. The windows can be cleaned with Easy Coat twice a year to be sure that the film varnish will be perfect.

WOODEN EXTERNAL DOORS

Our external doors, manufactured only in laminated wood and in different colors, fit, according to careful planning and a completely customized design, to any need of aesthetic and strength of the elements of exterior decorations of our homes.
